

IGUDESMAN & JOO

You just can't get enough

Let's be honest: the best parts of the concert are often the encores. So why not start with them right away? In fact – what if every piece was an encore? “Play it Again”, IGUDESMAN & JOO’s third duo show, is a topsy-turvy, inside-out, breakfast-for-dinner and dinner-for-breakfast show, devoting themselves to the audience’s wishes for them to play it again. And though no two performances of IGUDESMAN & JOO’s are ever really the same, “Play it Again” vehemently vows for each night to be so wildly different from one another that audiences will simply have to return for every unique performance. The audience themselves spontaneously decide on the pieces beforehand, so they ultimately decide where the journey will go. So once IGUDESMAN & JOO “Play It Again,” you will want to “Hear It Again!”
